Enoch Nhlapo Mokwining

1968–2009

The late Mr Enoch Nhlapo Mokwining, Deputy Director-General of the Department of Communications of the Government South Africa, was the champion not only of this project, but on a wider scale also of the Presidential National Commission on Information Society and Development (PNC on ISAD). The purpose of the Commission is to establish South Africa as an advanced information-based society in which information and ICT tools are key drivers of economic and societal development.

The tragic death of Mr Mokwining, and that of four of his children, has left an enormous void in the lives of his family, friends and colleagues. His enthusiasm, energy and dedication towards building an inclusive information society will be remembered with gratitude.
